

BUSINESS
PULSE
OF THE NATIONTERESA
OOI

DOUBLE CELEBRATIONS

SYDNEY 4 DECEMBER

It was the biggest gathering of corporate leaders when the Business Council of Australia celebrated its 30th anniversary with a gala dinner attended by more than 400 executives. Prime Minister Tony Abbott shared a joke with CBA boss Ian Narev before making his keynote speech. Among the big business names who were busy networking were Qantas chair Leigh Clifford, Reserve Bank of Australia governor Glenn Stevens, BHP Billiton CEO Andrew Mackenzie, NAB director Jillian Segal, Qantas director Barbara Ward, Nestle chair Elizabeth Prout, CBA directors Harrison Young and Carolyn Kay, Macquarie chair Kevin McCann, BCA CEO Jennifer Westacott and Korn Ferry MD Katie Lahey.

WELCOME PARTY

BRISBANE 4 DECEMBER

The Italian Chamber of Industry & Commerce (Qld) and the Queensland Performing Arts Centre jointly held a cocktail reception to welcome the new Italian Ambassador Pier Francesco Zazo to Australia. More than 70 business and government officials attended the event including QPAC chair Chris Freeman, ICIC president Santo Santoro, Australian Capital CEO Steve Pellegrino and DLC Capital principal Damian Cossario.

WHO'S WHO

1 LEIGH CLIFFORD & GLENN STEVENS 2 TONY ABBOTT & IAN NAREV 3 JILLIAN SEGAL & ANDREW MACKENZIE 4 BARBARA WARD & ELIZABETH PROUT
5 HARRISON YOUNG, CAROLYN KAY & NEVIN MCCANN 6 JENNIFER WESTACOTT & KATIE LAHEY 7 CHRIS FREEMAN, PIER FRANCESCO ZAZO & SANTO SANTORO
8 STEVE PELLEGRINO & DAMIAN COSSARIO

teresa.ooi@news.com.au